In 2016, Hillary Clinton nearly won the American Presidency. Her loss ushered in the Trump Era and galvanized the political mobilization of thousands of American women.

In this talk, historian Ellen Fitzpatrick will reflect on what has changed and what hasn't since 2016 in women's elusive quest for the American Presidency.

Ellen Fitzpatrick is Professor of History at the University of New Hampshire. She specializes in modern American political and intellectual history and is the author or editor of eight books.
